

In the Blood (Single Remix)

Better Than Ezra

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

How can you be so warm?
How can you know what I feel, I feel, I feel
It's the way you move your hands
And it's the way you understand And that's the reason that I'm askin'
And that's the reason that I want to know
And that's the reason that I'm askin'
And that's the reason that I How can you throw away
Everything you live for
It's the way we shake and sway
And it's the passion that you play And that's the reason that I'm askin'
And that's the reason that I want to know
And that's the reason that I'm askin'
And that's the reason that I Too many lost links in a chain
Passed down through the years
Ending here if we just face the pain
And the fear Did you love before?
Did they love before you, for you, for you?
But it's the way you move your hands
And it's the way you understand And that's the reason that I'm askin'
And that's the reason that I want to know
And that's the reason that I'm askin'
And that's the reason that I
