Some Things Just Are The Way They Are

Atb

There is no contemplating,
Its all negotiating,
It makes no sense what weve become,
There are no words to explain,
Its all just birds and aeroplanes,
We stretch but we cant even touch.They talk about our present,
The past and almost everything,
Before they never even tried,
But I cant find the answers,
To all the questions inside,
Some things just are the way they are.Yeah but tonight its all,
An ever lasting out of here,
The kind that makes my story disappear,
Tonight its everything Ill ever need to know,
I am searching for the right way to go.Ive tried to see it your way,
Ive made up stupid stuff to say,
But you never really did reply,
There are tons of bricks between us,
But we still have to meet up,
And be the people that we are.They talk about our present,
The past and almost everything,
Before they never even tried,
But I cant find the answers,
To all the questions inside,
Some things just are the way they are.Yeah but tonight its all,
An ever lasting out of here,
The kind that makes my story disappear,
Tonight its everything Ill ever need to know,
I am searching for the right way to go. (3x)They talk about our present,
Before they never even tried,
But I cant find the answers,
But I cant find the answers
