What Was

Steve Perry

What was I to do
You never should have called me up
What was I to do
Havent we both had enough?I still think of you
Even though were miles apart
What was I to do?The fire is still there
My heart is too scared to fall again
Its a little too late because
Well never change what wasThere you go again
Girl, its never going to end
Its something we cant have
We must let goI want so much to say
I love you more today
The hardest thing
Ive ever had to say goodbyeWhat was I to do
You should've never called me up
What was I to do
Havent we both had enough?Oh, the fire is still there
My heart is too scared to fall again
Its a little too late because
Well never change what was
Its a little too late because
