

Lady Jane (Live from Sadler's Wells, London)

Mika

Lady Jane, the river saint
Special yes, but lucky ain't
Lady Jane said she walked on water
But she never had a man to show Then one day she found a fella
She was eager just to let him know
Lady Jane she walked on water
Followed by her brand new lover Who tumbled along, drowning down below Lady Jane did not abort
For legends are never made that short
Now be sure when you listen to this
Here's another reason why you shouldn't eat fish
Convinced he'd become a creature of the sea
She cut off her feet and jumped into the deep
And never stopped looking for
Her lover below Lady Jane, the river fish
Became the world's most wanted dish
And though no man would dare to catch
Something who's beauty we could never match But when some member from a far away state
Said "I order you to get that fish's head on my plate!"
They killed little Lady Jane You emperor of a distant land
The only man who didn't understand
That though you think you've got your prize
There's another fish that has escaped your eyes
Lady Jane, her lover's there
Swimming through the ocean with a desperate stare
Looking for Lady Jane
Looking for Lady Jane

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>