

Immenso

Andrea Bocelli

And so the story goes
Forgettable faces, they come they go
And the room is already dark
This is my sea, my immense sea, and I sing
I can feel the silence around me
And the music rises softly from the violins
Then I see your face again
It's you, and I'm guessing where you are
You, in this, my immense sea
A face I'll probably never see again
That comes, that goes, that fades away
And plunges the theatre back into darkness Immense in this vast sea
It's so immense, I feel it
I feel you're here, in the theatre, in the darkness
I can feel your presence, right next to me
I feel you're here, in the theatre, in the darkness
I can feel your presence Yes, it's wiser not to think of you here
I'll pretend you're already far away
Then I'll sing and I'll sing
And I'll find you again in this ocean
Once again I'll feel the silence around me
The music, an ocean of violins
And I'll sing and I'll sing
I'll meet you again some day
I know I will Immense
Immense is knowing you're beside me

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>