

The Final Confessions I

Catman Cohen

These are my confessions
Secrets of my mind
Everything that mattered
Truth I can not hide Nothing but a shadow
Distant memory
What I was
What I am
What I'm supposed to be Forgive me, God, forgive me
For being so unkind
Impatient ungrateful
Cynical and blind To those who thought they knew me
And those who never did
To those who hear my songs
In the places where they live I offer my confessions
Honest to the core
Offer my confessions
There won't be anymore No more
