Break Me

Groundbreaking

You've thrown my pieces on the floor,
Couldn't ask myself for too much more,
I can only go so far down this hole,
Nothing really matters anymore.

When something breaks me unto fix,
Just throw it away and smash it to bits,
That's just the way we love to live,
Nothing really matters anymore.

I've taken too much damage,
Hey people you're so savage,
You make me feel so sad,
You broke me pretty bad,
They hit me on the bruises,
And what I have to choose is,
To try to make em' stop,
Or just let them go full...!

Don't you!
Hate me!
Tried to!
Break me!

I've taken too much damage,
Hey people you're so savage,
You make me feel so sad,
You broke me pretty bad.

I wonder as we fall...
Is there a place for us all?

I think I'm just a little broken,
I guess I'm just a little broken,
I know I'm just a little broken,
And I am just a little broken.
I think I'm just a little broken,
I guess I'm just a little broken,
I know I'm just a little broken,

And I am just a little broken.

Don't you!
Hate me!
Tried to!
Break me!
Don't you!
Hate me!
Tried to!
Break me!

I wonder as we fall...
Is there a place for us all?
