

This Too Will Pass

Pentagram

I believe
In all the visions that you've made up in your mind
I believe
In the point of here and now you read these lines I've got a word to say, just save the day
In the game you take your part
The evil game lives forever more
While every player shall die Don't hide and leave the dark
Don't go astray for light
Just take your time tonight
This too will pass
Fly away, on the wings of moments
That you're breathing out
Fly away, don't rely on the world
It's turning round and round It's the way we choose and got nothing to lose
In the game we call our lives
All that appears will turn to dust
Like every soul shall rise
Don't hide and leave the dark
Don't go astray for light
Just take your time tonight
This too will pass
