Living A Boy's Adventure Tale

A-ha

I've fixed my dwelling for the night
Lights in pairs come passing by where I hide
I'll need some time now on my own
Leave my loneliness alone to lick my wounds
Night has found me just in time
To help me close my eyes one more time
Living a boy's adventure tale
In so many ways
Living a boy's adventure tale
For so many days
I'm living a boy's adventure tale
Can't escape if I wanted to
Living a boy's adventure tale
I may be dreaming but I feel awake
I've been lost in so many places
Seeking love in so many faces
A change of weather, the rain pours down
My head in hands, pressed to the ground

And where am I supposed to go now?
Living a boy's adventure tale
In so many ways
Living a boy's adventure tale

A voice I hear
Living a boy's adventure tale
Singing a lullaby for me
Living a boy's adventure tale
Because of you
Living a boy's adventure tale
Oh you know it's true
Living a boy's adventure tale
In so many ways
For so many days
I love you, I love you
So many ways
