

In Our Dreams

Joyless

In our dreams
We're not what we seem
While we sleep
All our lives go dim

Spinning all around
Blending and morphing to the ground
Crying all alone
Anti social and withdrawn

In our dreams
We are what we seek
Young and free
Drifting endlessly

Reaching for the stars
We lose ourselves and who we are
Twinkling in the sky
As seconds, minutes pass us by

When we finally die
We find our lives is just a dream

Inner personality
Hidden within fantasies
Of hideaway

Locked away inside the streams of conscious energy
On the neurosis ride
Of thoughts and wants and fantasies
Twisted up inside our intertwined life circuitry

Inner personality
Hidden within fantasies
Of hideaway
