

Life's Just Too Short Little Ndugu

Moneen

Wait we'll have to wait our turn
We'll have to fall in line
Follow, live, love and die
If we're all the same, get born, grow, married and die
We all hate long good byes
So don't bother and just die
End it now If we're all the same
Where did we come from and why are we here
What do we do when it all dies and we're all left here all alone
We always lose sight of everything Wait we'll have to accept the change
Even though we're all still the same
Follow, live, love and die
I have a mission, I have a goal that's why
I'd rather live now then die knowing we only have one chance We have one chance, one life, one death, one time to smile
One time to try, one time to die, one time to smile
We all die one at a time
So hold on
