Christmas Is

Mark Harris

Fireside, winter snow
Lights are on the tree
The world is all aglow again
With all the season bringsAnd though it comes around each year
The meaning of the season sometimes
Disappears
Oh, it's good to be remindedChristmas is for girls and boys
Trimming trees and Santa's toys
It's Mom and Dad
Gram and Grandpa tooChristmas is a sacred birth
A chance for hope and peace on earth
It's everything that we hold
Dear and true'Cause most of all, Christmas is the love
That lives inside of me and youSleepy eyes are open wide
And tiny hearts beat fast
To celebrate the morning just like
Every Christmas pastWe gather close the family
Embracing all that's been
And all that's yet to be
Oh, it's good to remindedChristmas is the candle light
Jingle bells and silent night
Friends from long ago
And friends we've made anewChristmas is a sacred birth
A chance for hope and peace on earth
It's everything that we hold
Dear and true'Cause most of all, Christmas is the love
That lives inside of me and youFrom where it all began
One night in Bethlehem
It reaches out to all of us
Reminds us once againChristmas is for everyone
The greatest gift, the Father's loveChristmas is the sacred birth
A chance for hope and peace on earth
It's everything that we hold
Dear and true'Cause most of all Christmas is the love
That lives inside of me and you
'Cause most of all Christmas is the love
That lives inside of me and you
