Fallen Believers

Fireball Ministry

Head down last round all solutions the same fallen believers no one left in the game old world confusion sands of time running low caustic religion burns away too slow keep them guessing taught the lesson locked away behind the door fought the fever a true believers till the same as before i gave up the one that was really for you tried being the one that was really for you lost cause short straws clean hands washed away open ended only living today head down last round some will win some will lose fallen believers they were able to choose
