

Ragtime

Neko Case

Last night late, I was watching it snow
It always goes sideways in the city
It comes right out from the street lights, you know
Pumped up by an engine inside the earth's core
It goes sideways in the city
Cover the shades and erase the day
This could be any evening in any place
Blizzard blows from left to right, which is funny
Cause the piano's playin' "Summertime" (from 1935)
It's the sounds of your life, it's Ragtime.
Wave to the waves of its residue
It's laughter from the marbled room
It's white crown sounds impossible
Sounds like it was me
It says don't you hurry
Don't you worry, kid, we'll be seeing you
See you when you're ready
Ragtime turnin out the sun and moon
It's gravity is soothing, winds me in a sleep cocoon
I'll reveal myself when I'm ready
I'll reveal myself invincible soon
I am one and the same, invincible and strange (x6)
