Where Is Here Now (feat. I-Fan)

Hardwell & Funkerman

I've awaken on a sidewalk on a street unknown
City lights here, They blind me
Can't find my way home
All the faces that surround me
Stare with eyes so cold
To the stranger who is lost
In a world unknown
Where is here now
I'm looking for answers
Without the right questions
It's hard to figure out
Where is here now
I have no direction
Without your compassion
It's hard to figure out
I'm running with the night time
Through the avenue
Try to find my way back
To the world I knew
Where is here now
I'm looking for answers,
Without the right questions
It's hard to figure out
Where is here now
I have no direction
Without your compassion
