Crawl Back In

Neurosis

Hammer in skull, I am waiting
To return your suffering
In my mind I see you distant
Broken and lost againWhen you come back, I won't know you
We won't fit right like it was before
Time is truth, hard and cruelAnd my heart has turned to stone
I crawled back in, I am hungry
I made sure my traps are set in spaceWe had been standing on these tracks
All the winds never called us backWe laid so long, eternal night
In my heart it never left
I'll stand here, you go onWhen you see me I'll be gone
Every road brings us on
The past is never forgiven, it is atoned
