

Forever Has Come to an End

Buddy & Julie Miller

When you wrote me you said you were sorry
And you'd still want me for your friend
But now your heart no longer beats for me
I guess forever has come to an end
Now it must be like I never loved you
Like your sweet kiss was never mine
I must move on and stop thinking of you
But sorrow has no sense of time
Now the sun need no longer to shine dear
And the world need no longer to spin
For your love it has run out of time dear
And forever has come to an end
Now the arms that did once used to hold you
Are empty as your promise was
What's to become of the secrets I told you
Would tears run like a river does
