

World Doesn't Care

Joy Zipper

You have no one, no one to turn to
So left on your own, you did the only thing you could think of
But the world doesn't care, the world's not that way
You didn't have a thing, to hold on to
So left on your own, you did the only thing you could think of
But the world doesn't care, the world's not that way
People don't care, people are not that way
No one did a thing, to remember you
You made me feel so bad, so I wrote a song to remember you
The world doesn't care, the world's not that way
People don't care, people are not that way
