

You're Worth It All

Bobby "Blue" Bland

Soft tears that I shed for you
The little favors that I love to do
The quick response to your every call
Oh darling, you're worth it all
The lonely nights leave me so blue
The little white lies you know aren't true
I know I'm heading for a fall
But oh darling, oh darling, yeah, you're worth it all
All the pain that I must bear
And all the gray that's in my hair
And all the heartaches I can recall
But oh darling, you're worth it all
