Shot Me Down

Backstage Cast

Young love hearts so blind
Same song played about a million times
It all started as a friend in need
How did we end up as enemies?Its a fatal love a heart attack
No matter what we do we can't come back
It's only one second till we run out of time
One life and we're livin' a liePicking up the pieces and hopin'
But how do you fix something that started off brokenYou shot me down
Like a bull's-eye through my heart
And when I hit the ground
Then you watch me fall apart
Yeah you shot me down
Your like a bullet right to my brain
And when i hit the ground
Then you watch me fade away
And i was never the sameTrue love is hard to find
It can twist and turn into a different kind
First i hate you then I love you more
We're locked in battle in a lovers warIt's a sad joke I cry in shame
Some times a little smoke and extinguish the flame
There's one second till we run out of time
Only one life and we're livin' a liePicking up the pieces and hopin'
But how do you fix something that started off broken
You shot me down
Like a bull's-eye through my heart
And when I hit the ground
Then you watch me fall apartYeah you shot me down
Your like a bullet right to my brain
And when I hit the ground
Then you watch me fade awayWhen you love someone then you loose someone
You are never the same
When you love someone then you loose someone
You still remember the flameWhen you're caught in a fire
And it burns you out till there's nothing left
Can you love someone to death?Picking up the pieces and hopin'
But how do you fix something that started off brokenYou shot me down
Like a bull's-eye through my heart
And when I hit the ground
Then you watch me fall apartYeah you shot me down

Your like a bullet right to my brain
And when I hit the ground
Then you watch me fade awayYeah you shot me down
You shot me downAnd when I hit the ground
When I hit the groundYeah you shot me down
You shot me downAnd when I hit the ground
Then you watch me fade away
And I was never the sameI was never the same
