Three On a Match

Strike Anywhere

They say we live like this and so we die like this nothing will change
but for the same
if we don't resistthe greed from the start the hate in our hearts
the trust torn apart
in this life
we teach them to rememberWe are the fire in the eyes of the young population once fallen asleep soon to rise to the occasion you won't find my name for the future roll call for a leader, a bleeder, a tax and we fallattacks the people soon to rise against injustice
won't sustain"Black for the night Green for the light Red for the blood in our arms" We helped build a nation and this is the thanks we get a halflife of broken promises No , we're not finished yetThey say we live like this and so we'll die like this
nothing will change
but for the same
if we don't resist
attacks
(and we fall)
a tax, and we fall
attacks the people
a tax, and we fallAgreed from the start No hate in our hearts
No trusts torn apart
In this life
a tax,
and we fall
