Sixth Of June(Resident Evil : Extinction)

It Dies Today

Been waiting for an end in a life filled with all those little stories
(Say what you want, say what you need)
Our last encounter
(Say what you want, say what you need)
Still stings like alcohol
And all the stones and prison bars
That stood in the way of my amends, forgive meI know you killed for me, you're sailing with the rock, Aileen
Promise you'll come for me, the sixth of June will bring you home
Say what you want, say what you need
'Cause tonight is your last chance to reach meHope and love seem to (Say what you want, say what you need)
Be a waste in this mortal reality
So we'll meet again on the sixth of June
There won't be a heart to break this time
And all the souls of fallen men
Won't stand in the way of our love again, forgive meI know you killed for me, you're sailing with the rock, Aileen
Promise you'll come for me, the sixth of June will bring you home
Say what you want, say what you need,
'Cause tonight is your last chance to reach meI know you killed for me, you're sailing with the rock, Aileen
Promise you'll be there on the sixth of June, our lord will guide you home
Say what you want, say what you need,
'Cause tonight is your last chance to reach meI know you killed for me, you're sailing with the rock, Aileen
Promise you'll come for me, the sixth of June will bring you homeSay what you want, say what you need
(I know you killed for me, I know you killed for me)
Say what you want, say what you need,
(I know you killed for me, say what you need)
'Cause tonight is the last chance to reach me
