Jackie O

John Mellencamp

So you went to a party at Jacqueline Onassis
If you're so smart, why don't you wear glasses?
So, you can see what you're doin' to me
So, you can see what tomorrow might bringUnderneath your breath you know I heard you cussin'
You were talkin' to my second cousin
Were you talkin' about me? Were you talkin' about me?
You better put on your glasses babe, so you can see
So, you can see what tomorrow might bringCan your daddy get us backstage passes?
You know that we love to dance
Can your daddy give us backstage passes with all his political power?
With all his political power, with all his political power
It seems like to me, you could dance better than you doSo, you went to a party at Jacqueline Onassis
If you're so smart girl, why don't you wear glasses?
So, you can see what the future might bring
So, you can see what tomorrow might bring [Incomprehensible]
