

Amanda's Poem About Unicorns

Feeling Left Out

imagine you being asleep lids embracing beautiful brown eyes wake you from your SLEEP i yearn for you to look at me i become stained with memories and pictures and thoughts of you i revel in your soothing touch you flow through me, i beg not to escape. permeating my pores whetting my appetite for more lend me your soul, show me what you see let me feel what you feel reveal your secrets to me guide me through the deepest corners of your body and soul my fingers touch the back of your neck, your cheeks, and i swear, even moonlight does not have skin this soft. snap of your laughter the bite of your wit you are mind soaring you speak to me in dreams and YOU follow me like shadows to hell with heaven (x4) to hell with heaven you're here for now and that's all i need (x2) that's all.
