

Bloodstained and Sworn

Winds

In an instant our fates were sealed
With no option of repent
In the night, so far away
Out of harms reach, is this where I belong? Here I stand in the midst of it all
While I look behind
And all I see is that broken tree of old
Alone in the coldCast aside by a moment in time
Derived by a quest in wonder
I see shadows against the stars as they draw nearer
The moon like a painting in the waterWhat do I seach for in the distance?
This memory haunts me stillThe memories I once had Dreamlike shadows
Now washed away by the rivers of time
The darker side of the twoThis is the reason why
It is all written in blood
