

Please Don't Go

Tank

Please don't go

Please don't go

Please don't go

Please don't go Oh, she found all the numbers I had in my car

Oh, she called all the ones I had marked with a star

Oh, I'm racing over to plead my case

Oh, saw it was me and slammed the door in my face

Fellas, tell me why how come we always doing wrong, doing wrong?

How come we can't keep it home, keep it home?

How come it always ends like this even though we know that It ain't worth telling a lie

It ain't worth seein' ya cry

It ain't worth that's why I'm right here, begging you please don't go 'cause

It ain't worth killin' a home

It ain't worth being alone

It ain't worth that's why I'm right here, begging you please don't go, baby Please don't go

Please don't go

Please don't go

Please don't go Oh, I jeopardized everything I love

Oh, what the hell could I have been thinking of?

Oh, oh, oh, I should've left you right when I had the chance

Yeah, now you out there looking for a better man

Tell me why how come we always doing wrong, how come?

How come we can't keep it home? I don't know, I don't know

How come it always ends like this even though we know that It ain't worth telling a lie

It ain't worth seein' ya cry

It ain't worth that's why I'm right here, begging you please don't go 'cause

It ain't worth killin' a home

It ain't worth being alone

It ain't worth that's why I'm right here, begging you please don't go, baby Please don't go

Please don't go

Please don't go

Please don't go Oh, I didn't think it would get this bad

Never thought of losing you (now my heart is beating fast)

I'm trying to figure out in my mind what to do, find the words to say

Remember when you said that you'll never leave me?

I'm steady knocking on the door, but you don't hear me

I can't let this happen right now

Don't take your love

I know I'm in shock; it a doggone shame

How come we always doing wrong, how come?
How come we can't keep it home, how come?
How come it always ends like this even though we know that
It ain't worth telling a lie
It ain't worth seein' ya cry
It ain't worth that's why I'm right here, begging you please don't go 'cause
It ain't worth killin' a home
It ain't worth being alone
It ain't worth that's why I'm right here, begging you please don't go, baby
Please don't go
Please don't go
Please don't go
