It's Too Late

The Audition

What you, what you see is Something you can't distinguish
Something you know that you loveWhat you, what you need is Something she'll never be
I think it's time to let you goGo and ask the captain
Do it now, do it before we drownIt's too late, it's too late
I think the tide has come to wash you out
Wash you away from here
Wash you away from hereHere comes the storm
It's moving in and swallowing
Like the bottom half of an hourglass
And we're running out of spaceGo and ask the captain
Do it now, do it before we drownIt's too late, it's too late
I think the tide has come to wash you out
Wash you away from here
Wash you away from hereEmpty ocean is all we see
The North Star is all we need
This time is probably right for everyone
To say their goodbyes"Mayday, mayday!", she said to me
However, it's too late
Captain, oh Captain, we've lost our directionIt's too late, it's too late, it's too lateIt's too late, it's too late
I think the tide has come to wash you out
Wash you away from here
Wash you away from here

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/