You Save Me

Building 429

Hold your breath, take a step it's gonna be your day
They're asking you to speak the truth
But you don't know what to say
Feel the fear creeping up like you were on a stage
You've had enough you're stepping up to say what you came to say
Say it just say it just say it
Say it just say it just say it

It's in my heart, it's in my soul,
It's something that I can't let go
I come alive every time, I can feel You
All I am and all I'll be is different since You set me free
I come alive every time
Cause You save me, Lord You save me

You're feeling good just like you should
But now you can feel the weight
Of people's eyes they pass you by hoping that you will fade
So live it just live it just live it
So live it just live it just say

It's in my heart, it's in my soul,
It's something that I can't let go
I come alive every time, I can feel You
All I am and all I'll be is different since You set me free
I come alive every time
Cause You save me, Lord You save me

Cause this is not what we thought it would be
And this is why we gotta speak
Cause there is love oh there is hope
We gotta live it out, live it out so they will know

Just say it's in my heart, it's in my soul,
It's something that I can't let go
I come alive every time I can feel You
All I am and all I'll be is different since You set me free
I come alive every time
Just say, just say
It's in my heart, it's in my soul,

It's something that I can't let go
I come alive every time, I can feel You
All I am and all I'll be is different since You set me free
I come alive every time
Cause You save me, Lord You save me
You save me, You save me yeah

Hold your breath, take a step, it's gonna be your day
