

Black Lotus

The Whigs

free my brain burn away these chains theres a light from the sun beggin me to come on up and try to unleash the person you see breathe just breathe primitive release its yourself that you need your unaffected being is gone a natural machine do you know what I mean taking back the instinct
taken out of me
and I get and I get why you got to be free I want it more than I can ignore any population puts it in a cage and you get and you get why we got all this rage I wondering more who we were before birds and bees dancin in the breeze theres a love in the air felt by all who carry on the simplest things have they gotten away taking back the instinct
taken out of me
I forget I forget what its like to be me I cant ignore who I was before any population puts it in a cage you forget you forget why we got all this rage were losin more than we can afford take my mind and erase it please condition all the hot air I breathe don't wanna try me just want me im happy here riding the world that is spinning around taking back the instinct
taken out of me
and I get and I get
why you got to break free

I want it more and I cant ignore any popluation lock it in a cage
and you get and you get
why we got all this rage
im wondering more who we were before Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>