

Ocean In Your Eyes

Smokey & Miho

This long world like my thoughts
I can change this path, where I'm going you'll be far away
Put my finger on the spot
And up above show the way to the ocean so far away
On the road to a paradise
I can look back, there's nothing left for me anyway Your eyes so big
When you look at me
Don't ask me why
There's nothing left for me to stay. Tell me can you hear me now
Tears are falling into the air
Almost like a clear blue breeze.
Can you feel my broken heart? You're child, not a man
If I told you why I must stay
You wouldn't understand.
Loneliness is a dealers sweep
But it feels good to me
Like the sand on my feet Tell me can you hear me now
Tears are falling into the air
Almost like a clear blue breeze
Can you feel my broken heart? All I want to say
Nothing but goodbye
All I want to see
The ocean in your eyes All I want to say
Nothing but goodbye
All I want to see
The ocean in your eyes Sitting on a secret beach
Like this smelling through the sea
The ocean takes my fear away
Can you hear my heart? All I want to say
Nothing but goodbye
All I want to see
The ocean in your eyes
