

Lamb of God

Nicole C. Mullen

Once upon a long night after a hard cry
Somewhere in Bethlehem
A baby graced the silence sweetly he's crying
I am Emmanuel Then angels gave him music, shepherds gave reverence
And a message to the land
A widow held him, cherished the God
Who became a man But oh, Lamb of God, oh, Prince of peace
What tribute shall I bring to worship Thee
I have no gold to lay at Your feet
So Lamb of God I offer me Can You see the wise men? A star did guide them
Searching all the earth
Till they found the one child, the very God-child
Who ruled the universe Did they know the lady's little baby
Was God and fully man
And everything they gave Him, He Himself
Had made with his hands But oh, Lamb of God, oh, Prince of peace
What tribute shall I bring to worship Thee
I have no gold to lay at Your feet
So Lamb of God I offer me I bring You all my hopes
I bring You all my dreams
I give You all my soul
My mind and all my strength I wrap them all inside
My heart to give to There
And I come
O come let us adore Him
O come let us adore Him
O come let us adore Him, Christ Oh, Lamb of God, oh, Prince of peace
What tribute shall I offer Thee
I have no gold to lay at Your feet
So Lamb of God may I offer me I have no gold to lay at Your feet
So Lamb of God, please let me offer me
Lamb of God I offer me
