Tell Me Where You Are

The Shining

I found how to get to her now
I'll whisper in her ear when she's asleep
And beg her to love me
When the morning comes she'll never know'Cause right now I think I'm on my way out
I've been tying bells to window screens
So I can hear her leave in the morning
But it never helps and I never knowWhere you like to go when you're alone?
And why you can't be reached does anybody know?
Waking up again, are you listening to anything I'm saying?Tell me where you are and I'll find you
Tell me what it takes to see this through
Tell me what it takes to get to you
And I'll be there waitingShe sees through any move that I use
See I've been falling head over her heels
So when she disappears she knows I'll be here waiting upSo I've vowed the moment that she leaves town
Yeah, I'll be hopping trains to get away and try to save face
But I know it's never far enoughStill I'll never know
Where you like to go when you're alone?
Why you can't be reached does anybody know?
Waking up again, are you listening to anything I've said?Tell me where you are and I'll find you
Tell me what it takes to see this through
Tell me what it takes to get to you
And I'll be there waitingTell me where you are and I'll find you
Tell me what it takes to see this through
Tell me what it takes to get to you
And I'll be there waitingWaiting for you to come home
Waiting, the world you're not gone
Waiting, waiting just to answer
When I ask you to tell me where you areTell me where you are and I'll find you
Tell me what it takes to see this through
Tell me what it takes to get to you
And I'll be thereTell me where you are and I'll find you
Tell me what it takes to see this through
Tell me what it takes to get to you
And I'll be there waiting
