

Motivation

Chris Ousey

You walk alone say you don't need protection
You know it's wrong but do it anyway
You try so hard to make the right connections
But what the hell you gonna have your say

You see the prize up on the far horizon
Your heart is pure but you're so far from home
A taste for blood a taste for high adventure
You're pushing hard but you're just flesh and bone

Stand up and meet the new sensation
She' gonna rock the nation
No need to change that station

Breath life life into a new creation
You gotta turn and face them
But you need the motivation now

Stand up and meet the new sensation
She' gonna rock the nation
No need to change that station

Breath life life into a new creation
You gotta turn and face them
But you need the motivation now

It's getting hard to bring on new surprises
There's only so much that a girl can do
You change the look, you try some cool disguises
And hope that talent's gonna get you through

Another day another distant mountain
Another stairway to the stars to climb
Well don't look down because the real world's shrinking
Up here it's time for one more pantomime

Stand up and meet the new sensation
She' gonna rock the nation
No need to change that station

Breath life life into a new creation
You gotta turn and face them
But you need the motivation now

Stand up and meet the new sensation
She' gonna rock the nation
No need to change that station

Breath life life into a new creation
You gotta turn and face them
But you need the motivation now

Now you know just what you have to do
New horizons got to push on through
Where you land well that's just up to you

Solo

Stand up and meet the new sensation
She' gonna rock the nation
No need to change that station

Breath life life into a new creation
You gotta turn and face them
But you need the motivation now

Stand up and meet the new sensation
She' gonna rock the nation
No need to change that station

Breath life life into a new creation
You gotta turn and face them
But you need the motivation now
