Everything Is All Right By Me Now

David Usher

Conscience has come its incest as always made us believers i am not the one wanting fought off desire everything is alright by me now nervous and numb flew over the top of it outstretched each arm with a reason for being fought off denils everything is arlight by me now i can feel it
life is changing just around the bend its waiting i can feel it

its waiting
smile at the world an unconscious ending take one last look mine is not the one wanting undress desire everything is alright by ne now
its waiting
its waiting
