

Rise

Danny Gokey

There's a brokenness inside of you
There's a wound that still reminds you
Of the fear, shame and rejection
You have seen it, you have seen it You know it's time to get up
But your heart's paralyzed, you're so stuck
You're past the point of trying again
You're defeated, you're defeated But something inside you can't deny
You hear the call of your creator
I made you for more, unlocked the door
I wanna restore your glory So rise
Breaking the dark, piercing the night
You're made to shine
An army of hope
Bringing the world
A radiant light
A radiant light
You were made to rise, rise Lift your head and look around you
See the dreams you lost, they have found you
And the heart that once was beating
Is coming back to life
Coming back to life But something inside you can't deny
You hear the call of your creator
I made you for more, unlocked the door
I wanna restore your glory So rise
Breaking the dark, piercing the night
You're made to shine
An army of hope
Bringing the world
A radiant light
A radiant light
You were made to rise, rise Shut the door on yesterday
Leave what happened in the grave
You were made to rise
You were made to shine
Creations longing for the day
For kings and queens to take their place
You were made to rise
You were made to shine Rise
Breaking the dark

Piercing the night
Made to shine
Bring the world
A radiant light
Rise
Breaking the dark, piercing the night
You're made to shine
An army of hope
Bringing the world
A radiant light
A radiant light
You were made to rise, rise
You were made to rise, rise
You were made to

Songwriters

JOSH BRONLEWE, DANNY GOKEY, BENJI COWARTPublished by

Lyrics © WORDSPRING MUSIC, LLC, WORD MUSIC, LLC, BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT Song
Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>