We Made A Pact

Hey Rosetta!

you
you and i made a pact a deal that as we lay dying we'd think about eachother then and smile as we're taken in

i i listened like a little child to the story of your earthbound pilot he plummeted so violent a parachute not opening and rushing to oblivion he broke into that knowing grin

i i think about that a lot cause a lot is what i've not got and a smile is what i least expect in the clutches of this darkness

you
you i was surprised to hear your birdsong velvet in my ear the phone broke its silent stint i pulled the cord and i needed it you billowed like a bowl of silk and slowed me from my ruining

Lyrics submitted by shineon.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/