

You Haunt Me

Liz Longley

Something's missing I feel it in my bones There's an emptiness, an aching in my soul and at night i hear you talk to me i close my eyes and i see you in my dreamswhen you go, when you go
when you go, when you go
you haunt me, when you goand when i'm dancing, i feel you all around me and when I'm crying, i feel you're hand upon me
and at night i hear you talk to me
you haunt me, when you goand you float above the bed where you used to lay your head and I wish you'd stayooh, whoa, ooh, whoaI never got to say it say goodbye
you turned around, that was the last time I never got to say it
you turned around andwhen you go, when you go
you haunt me, when you goI never got to say it
say goodbye
you turned around, that the last time
