

4th of July

Spock's Beard

Another 4th of July
Another pie in the sky
Another man hears the call Another snake in the grass
Another tire's been slashed
Another man takes the fall And like a dream dressed in white
Fast as a trick of the light
You see the vision of every man You've known it since you were small
Even before you could crawl
You had the vision of every man Another 4th of July
Another shot hits the sky
Another man has to pay We wish our boy would stay sane
We wish he'd change his name
But life just isn't that way And like a dream dressed in white
Fast as a trick of the light
You see the vision of every man You've known it since you were small
Even before you could crawl
You had the vision of every man Another 4th of July
Another shot hits the sky
Another ego exalts the man Another 4th of July
Another shot hits the sky
Another ego exalts the man
