Curiosity Kills

Trapt

Everybody turn your cameras on, look who's on the run
The night is young and this time it's more than just for fun
Let me know, let me know how far you take it
Let me know, let me know how hard you break it
Don't you know you're digging too deep, too deep tonight
There's a little too for much for you to hide
But not enough to fill the emptiness inside
Don't you know you're digging too deep, too deep tonight
There's a little too much for you to hide
You're falling into every lie, just say goodbye
Curiosity kills
What you don?t know won't hurt you
What you don't know won't break your heart
So why do you start?
Curiosity kills
What you don't know won't burn you
What you don't know won't make it's mark
We've reached the end so why pretend?
We're on again, when you know you found another friend
Let me know, let me know how far you take it
Let me know, let me know how hard you break it
I just can't leave it alone
Nothing ever stays the same, what can I say?
The seasons change and I know I must be on your way
Let me know, let me know how far you take it
Let me know, let me know how hard you break it
Don't you know you're digging too deep, too deep tonight
There's a little too for much for you to hide
But not enough to fill the emptiness inside
Don't you know you're digging too deep, too deep tonight
There's a little too much for you to hide
You're falling into every lie, just say goodbye
Curiosity kills
What you don?t know won't hurt you
What you don't know won't break your heart
So why do you start?
Curiosity kills
What you don't know won't burn you
What you don't know won't make it's mark

Somebody pull the wool over my eyes
Ignorance is bliss, I'd only wish that I'd been blind
The evidence was left for me to find
Oh, I wanna let it go, I want my peace of mind
They say to me that you should let it die
You don't have to know the truth
You don't have to waste your time
Don't you know you're digging too deep, too deep tonight
There's a little too for much for you to hide
But not enough to fill the emptiness inside
Don't you know you're digging too deep, too deep tonight
There's a little too much for you to hide
You're falling into every lie, just say goodbye
Curiosity kills
What you don?t know won't hurt you
What you don't know won't break your heart
So why do you start?
Curiosity kills
What you don't know won't burn you
What you don't know won't make it's mark
Curiosity kills
Curiosity kills
Curiosity kills

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/