

Ordinary Day

Tammin Sursok

She never had a break
He was always running late
Did she push too hard
Didn't mean to go that farHe never had no faith
Spent his whole life in the shade
He was never satisfied
He had a different frame of mindShe said
I want you for my own
I never see you anymore
You're always walking out that doorHe said
I want some time alone
So don't wait
I'm not coming homeIt's just an ordinary day?Maybe it wasn't meant to be
I guess they didn't even see
Is this love to hard to mend
Is this where the story endsJust another story told
As I watch it all unfold
It's another day of life
But it's gonna be alrightShe said
I want you for my own
I never see you anymore
You're always walking out that doorHe said
I want some time alone
So don't wait
I'm not coming homeIt's just an ordinary day?[Repeat chorus]
