

Redefine Defiance

Dogwood

You don't own me but you wish you did
I feel that life is moving way too fast
You apologize but I don't hear
You think it's easy to make believe that I still care Sometimes life brings you down
But there's no better way to make you understand
The truth will hurt, especially when you're right
But mostly when you're wrong Sensitive, that's what you are
There has to be a willingness to change on both our parts
You say you listen but you don't hear
I'm sick and tired of trying to make my conscience clear Sometimes life brings you down
But there's no better way to make you understand
The truth will hurt, especially when you're right
But mostly when you're wrong Sometimes life brings you down
But there's no better way to make you understand
The truth will hurt, especially when you're right
But mostly when you're wrong
