

Vicious Thing

Katastro

And I wonder why you only call me when you get that way
I was there all alone, and you were there calling me
And you live a lie, but you're a pretty little vicious thing
I was there all alone, but you still came all the way

Fell in love with a stranger, there were drugs on the table
Don't ever come down, now we're rollin' around from the bed to the ground
The lust of an angel, with her clothes at her ankles
Don't ever come down, now we're rollin' around from the bed to the ground

How ever it works, who ever comes first, I still know that you'll be on top when the radio stops, yeah.
How ever it works, who ever comes first, I still know that you'll be on top

Strange things, you know they happen late night
I'm zoned out, but you know I know you came right?
Was there no emotions ever since that moment we've been up to no good
And I know you come around 'cause you probably like the taste of it
Go another round 'cause you couldn't take a break from it,
Know deep down you should probably stay away from it
Life's too short so what we make a waste of it
We'll have another few, like a deja vu, breakin' all these rules
Now he's lookin' at his phone like "where the fuck are you"
I'mma leave that up to you, he still doesn't have a clue that you

Fell in love with a stranger, there were drugs on the table
Don't ever come down, now we're rollin' around from the bed to the ground
Don't ever come down, now we're rollin' around from the bed to the ground

How ever it works, who ever comes first, I still know that you'll be on top when the radio stops, yeah.
How ever it works, who ever comes first, I still know that you'll be on top when the radio stops
