Light Switch

Soundtrack

A rare occasion when you come on the phone
It's like a holiday I celebrate alone
Remember every detail when you spoke
The way my name drags across your throatYou've been a burden all at once
Sometimes I can't find the light switch
Sometimes I'd rather dwell in the darkness
Sometimes I'm better off alone
Sometimes has become a homeWell you don't want me and i should have known
My heart can't seem to let you go
You're not so special, you're not even close
You mean the least but you take the mostYou've been a burden all at once
Sometimes I can't find the light switch
Sometimes I'd rather dwell in the darkness
Sometimes I'm better off alone
Sometimes has become a homeI hear your words so sweet, secure and flattering
I stare into the sea, as your waves crash over me
Almost upon the shore
Your words don't flatter anymoreSometimes I can't find the light switch
Sometimes I'd rather dwell in the darkness
Sometimes I'm better off alone
Sometimes has become a home
