Do What You Feel Like

Headstrong

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

everyone is new and exciting i never figured that we'd ever devolve the closest one to me ain't living at all everything is a breath of fresh air true enough, 'cause that is where the fault lies true enough, you're happy blaming fault lines and you said your hair is short so your life's a disasterthat seems like freedom to me true enough, that sex and death are you're breath so do what you feel like i can't account for the grief but do it if it feels rightnow these hooks are taking me apart underneath the rockets red glare it shouldn't be this hard to choose between everything to win and everything to loose true enough, you're happy blowing sunshine true enough, that out of site is out of your mind but it seems you'll hang yourself if you get enough slack, yeah true enough, you're free to do what you please that seems like freedom to meso do what you feel like i can't account for the griefbut do it if it feels right
the closest one to me ain't living at all so do what you feel likei never figured that we'd ever devolve that seems like freedom to me but do it if it feels righti can't account for the grief
