

Little White Lines

Highway 55

It's no big deal
Everybody tries
just take a deep breath and close your eyes Inhale as fast as you can You're about to be Superman It's the weekend
Let's have a good time You're among friends and she won't mind It's just a little blow and she ain't even got to know Well I like your style
The first one's on me
If you want to feel strong
I got what you need To chase little white lines
Into the night
While we're still young Lets all get high Won't listen to those on the other side Don't want us to live
but the don't know the power inside
These little white lines
A social user turned to everyday by the time she walked out I was in a constant haze
She said I can't bare to see The man you've turned out to be So I stole from mama and I robbed from dad and my dealer friend Took everything I had and when the money was gone
He said sorry you're on your own Rock bottom and lost yeah I got no shame Cause if you can't pay the cost

you can't play in this game Where we chase Little White lines You took me away from the love that we had and a sweet yesterday
numb to this world
No longer made of steel This fog in my mind won't let me see what's real They didn't tell me
'bout the devil inside
Damn white lines
The sweat poured out My body sand deep in my soul
said this is not who I am It's hard to be Superman
So we sat in circles and told of our hells
The money we'd blown IRS and jail
and when it didn't hurt to cry
They said it's time to say goodbye Take it step by step you'll know what to do Cuz when you find you're alone You'll face your moment of truth and I'll chase Little White Lines down this interstate I'll win back her love No matter what it takes Had to come through hell to know who I am Now heaven awaits
Down in Brimingham
As I roll down I-65
Chasing Little White Lines
as I roll down I-65
