You deny every lie, I have to say goodbye.
And I love to let you know I used you up last time.
And I love to let you go, I don't hate anything.
I'm so fucked up, it seems alright if I cared once again,
Would it ever seem this bright?
You deny every lie, I threw away that life.
And now I'm someone you don't know.
It will be a surprise that new places I can go.
You fucked up everything .
I found out how it wasn't me.
Your words don't ever change and they always make me see.
Now I know what it is, I won't listen to anyone.
You deny every lie.
You just push me into nothing.
