

Waiting Four Years

Silverstein

I gave you everything
But it just wasn't enough to make you stay
You said you'd give me time and space again
I asked to see you everydayNow I'm waiting four year just to feel your touch
Waiting four whole years to say how much I careThe flowers I gave you, died
Lost and been thrown away just like me
Life has passed me by
Reflected in my eyeNever again will I have you beside me?
You to be there
The years behind cost
More than I'll ever haveNow, I'm waiting four years just to hear your voice
Waiting four whole years to lie right by your sideI waited all this time just to see your smile
I waited all this time to say how much I careCan you see me waiting for you, everyday?
