A Moment Changes Everything

David Gray

Come on, come on, come on
come on, come on, come on
The stolen glances, broken threads
The visions looming in our heads
The years spent running parallel
To everything that might of been
No longer possible to hide
The feeling welling up inside
Ain't never been this close before
Ain't never felt so far away
When a moment
A moment changes everything
When a moment
A moment changes everything
When a moment, it changes everything
The summer sky is blushing pink
The heart is running out of sync (?)
Could this just be the day, I think

When anything is possible
Well, hey now you've been here before
To see your face and slam the door
And waiting for the floor to drop
Feel like time is standing still
When a moment
A moment changes everything
[x3]When a moment, it changes everything
Come on, come on, come on
Come on, come on, come on [x2]A moment, a moment changes everything
[x4]Then a moment
A moment changes everything
A moment

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/