

The Mirror

Dark Side Cowboys

I have a light that did not shine
I have seen a mirror crushed to pieces
A mirror showing the best of me
A mirror broken by a tragedy
Here offering you tales of madness
About a dog who came crawling back
Reconsider twice before I tell you
The chapter and verse, the pain to be
We're too divided to be as one
I'm lost on this road, truly blind
A dying rose, still a living lie
Keeps away those things that makes me cry
So I'm the devil in your world
Kill my shadow and my soul
In my grave I'll cry for love
Useless to the hights above
My mirror is broken and coloured black
A splinter though is red as blood
This little piece I try to keep
The memory of you, I keep it deep...
