

Hallowed Be My Name

HammerFall

I cover the trail behind me,
Stay out of the light
There's something alive in the darkness
I can feel the power and it's might For years I have walked in the shadows
Banned for my beliefs
Cause around me the walls are falling
Bridges burn, in flames without a spark Cause I'm searching high and low
Through dark places I must go
I am the one you should not blame
Hollowed be my name
My name There's no place for me in heaven,
Nor a place in hell
Sentenced to walk here forever
This will be my final place to dwell I walk alone, no legions will follow my path
A stranger to my own shadow
But something's wrong I can feel it to the bone When I stand on sea and shore
Storms will rage and ocean roar
I raise my hammer, take my aim
Hallowed be my name
My name Vultures fly, the ravens cry
No stars are shining on the darkened sky
One allegiance, sun and moon
My eyes are red,
My soul is turning into black When I stand on sea and shore
Storms will rage and ocean roar
I raise my hammer, take my aim
Hallowed be my name You can lie and crush my heart
Steal my soul, tear me apart
Still it's something you can not claim
Hallowed be my name
My name
